[For the Roundabout.]
There Are Rivers Calmly Flowing.

There are rivers calmly flowing,
Placid waters never knowing
Change of volume, high or lower.
As they wend their silent course;
And the current's changeless level
In the ages wear a bœuf
On the shore that is common
From the outlet to the source.

Would I hold it as a blessing
If my life should flow, unceasing,
As the tide of such a river.
From the cradle to the grave?
No! I answer, God forbid it!
For, in madness, who'd rid it
Of existence 'ere the morrow,
If such joy alone it gave.

Rather let it be a torrent,
With a wildly surging current,
Leaping precipice and boulder.
Ebbing lower, swelling high:
Let it dash and spray and roar,
Let it kiss the rugged shore
In a thousand varied place,
Or forever be it dry.

[For the Roundabout.]
To L. E. S.

My heart fills with a strange delight
Whene'er I hear thee sing.
The solemn stillness of the night
Will never bring
The dreams of love, the bliss divine,
Which thy sweet voice inspires;
The joys that round my thoughts
entwine.

The mad desire.
I heard thee first in a glad hour
When winds were whispering low,
When every fragrant breathing flower
Did softly throw

Ambrosia perfume os'st the land;
I heard thee just as night, —
Extending far her magic wand
Bade stars shine bright.
Thou sang'st so grandly sweet that

The silvery moonbeams stood
Entranced beside an evergreen
And wished they could
Thy matchless voice forever hear;
So sweetly that a rill,
Soft-purling mid the cypresses near,
Purled softer still.

Sad as the passing of a rose,
Lorn as a melting dream,
Thy song came to a doleful close;
And earth did teem.

With a deep melancholic gloom,
As though a mighty hand
Had poured the darkness of the tomb
Forth o'er the land.

Ah, blessed maiden, care of heaven,
Thy knowest not thy power!
The tuneful choir to thee have given
A wondrous dower.

For thou canst soften hearts to tears,
And thou canst lighten woe;
At thy command the joys of years
Shall come and go.

The Rev. W. C. Taylor Accepts.

The Rev. William C. Taylor, of the First Baptist Church of Jefferson City, Mo., who has accepted the pastorate of the College-avenue Baptist Church of this city, will begin his duties there about August 1. He is a descendant of an old Virginia family, whose ancestors came from Scotland and Wales in the early part of the last century. His father, one uncle and six first cousins also became Baptist ministers.

In early life he moved with his father's family from the Virginia home to the State of Oregon, where he entered college with a view to preparing for a professorship, and later accepted a position as teacher, which he held for several years. Afterward he entered the Oregon State University, then under the management of Brown University and Yale College men, completing the full classical course, receiving the A. M. degree. In 1887 he graduated from the law course at the Roger Williams University, and at once entered the pastorate in which he has been employed ever since. His pastorate in Frankfort began January 1, 1891. He remained there for nearly seven years, the membership and financial strength of the church being nearly doubled in that time. In 1894 he baptized an even one hundred persons. He received the degree of D. D. from Georgetown College in 1895, and was sent by his Frankfort friends, as their representative on a tour through Europe, the Holy Land and Egypt. While in Kentucky he was for about six years Vice President of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention for Kentucky.

His first pastorate was at Buffalo, N. Y., for two years; his second at Frankfort, Ky., six years and eight months; his third at Jefferson City, Mo., two years. His fourth charge will be that of the College-avenue Baptist Church, of this city.—Indianapolis Journal.

[For the Roundabout.]
To School Girls.

As this is the season when so many girls are "getting ready" to attend college, let me say a few words of encouragement, or, rather, of advice from an old and experienced teacher, may not be amiss.

Now that there are so many colleges accessible to girls, we hope none who desire it may be denied the advantages of a college course of study. Suppose you, my girl, may read this article with so unwise as to fail to avail herself of any opportunity she may have for acquiring an education.

To those who are making up their minds to enter college we would say, do so with the determination to succeed, with the knowledge that study and application will enable you to do so. Do not imagine that an education can be obtained by spasmodic efforts at study—that you can work two hours a day, three days in a week, or four months in a year and the rest of your time will need not be spent at educating yourself. It may require years of constant application and hard work for you to obtain a moderately good education, but when you have gained this you have a treasure whose value you can never fully estimate. You can never be satisfied with a mere comfortable living—which is itself sufficient compensation for your labor—but one which will gain for you the respect of all around you, from the most illiterate to the most learned, and, your own self-respect, which is of the greatest value.

Do you say, "I never expect to have to earn a support for myself?" That may be, but amid the uncertainties of life, you do not know what may be your future necessities. Our advice to you, therefore, would be to be prepared, by which you will be able to earn a living, if you are compelled to do so. It is running too great a risk of future misery to allow your youth to pass without making this preparation. But if never compelled to exert yourself for a livelihood, the strength of mind and character you will gain by your efforts to fit yourself for such an emergency will more than compensate you for your work.

Not long since, having occasion to visit a dress-making establishment in one of our cities, we found among the poor, weary sewing girls who were working there as if they had been born to it, a woman, a native of Frankfort, Ky., whose name I might give you, whom we had known about fifteen years before as a girl of excellent mind and considerable means who had had more than ordinary advantages for education. But when we last saw her, she had failed to apply herself to her studies with the determination of learning some one study thoroughly. She had spent several years at one of our best schools, and, like Miss Swartz of Vanity Fair, had learned to play her "two pieces" and sing her "two songs," and to exhibit a hundred dollars apiece to her father, but was as totally ignorant of even the rudiments of music as if she had never seen a musical instrument. This woman, we suspect, was reared with the idea that she must marry or a support, consequently she linked her fate with that of a poor man, who died several years after their marriage, leaving her with several small children to bring up and nothing with which to meet her expenses. We inquired particularly about her condition and found that she and her children were living in a poor house, with the aid of a med undesirable part of the city—cooking, eating and sleeping in the same room while she was hiring herself at seventy-five cents a day as an incompetent hand to a city dressmaker for the purpose of gaining subsistence for her family. This is only one instance of a thousand that

Now when we say that girls should be able to support themselves, we do not imply that they should not allow some one else to do this for them provided some one else will do so. But we do hope, dear girls, that none of you anticipate imposing your lives on some innocent man, just for a support! Be assured that if you are helpless and do not know the value of a dollar, from never having worked to earn one in your life, are in debt, or in debt and being worried almost out of its existence, he will very soon care little for you, and the wealth neither you nor he will be very happy.

Some of you may say "I can not learn the languages nor mathematics, consequently there is no use in my attempting to do so." Now are you sure that you have made an honest trial at these subjects? Have you worked diligently nine months in the year for Latin, French and German? Or, have you given about five minutes a day for three months to each of these and thrown your books aside, with the conclusion that you are incapable of learning them? Believe me, the intelligent does not come by inspiration to any one. It comes to the brightest intellects only as the result of continuous application and untiring labor. It is true that there are many girls who are incapable of learning a profession which involves literary taste and talent, still there are many others who will succeed in those professions who do not attempt these professions, such as teaching, writing, etc., because they are lacking in energy and aspiration. We would advise those who are prevented, either by natural incapacity or peculiarity of temperament, from taking a thorough course at school, to take one of the professions which does not require so much time and capital to be mastered, such as telegraphy, stenography and lithography. But whatever you undertake make of yourself a specimen. In one profession remember that skilled labor in every department is always in demand, and that if you fit yourself for a position you will have no difficulty in obtaining it.

There is another class of girls to whom we would give some special advice. Those whose parents or parents have come suddenly into possession of large fortunes and who have not the faintest idea of what education means. We generally find prevailing among this class the idea that all that is necessary to their success in life is that they be fitted for good society. They are educated in this end and they must go off a long distance from home to school for about one year, and then spend a year or two in traveling abroad. Now girls, we hope none of you will make such a mistake as this. Nothing will ever take the place of good, well-grounded instruction in the elementary branches. It is the sine qua non of education.

If you do not take a classical course of study to obtain at least some knowledge of grammar, history and literature. When you associate with the educated your deficiencies will be exposed. You will be the object of ridicule and contempt if you are a conversationalist—always in the course of an hour's intercourse. Some such expression as "she gave it to him and I," or "what made you act like that?" will betray your ignorance of the elementary rules of grammar, while you are totally unconscious of the bad impression you are making. You will be the object of ridicule and contempt if you are a talker of trifles, always in the course of an hour's intercourse. Some such expression as "she gave it to him and I," or "what made you act like that?" will betray your ignorance of the elementary rules of grammar, while you are totally unconscious of the bad impression you are making. FRANKFORT, AUG. 19 1899

Well Done.

We desire, on behalf of our city and county, to return their sincere and heartfelt thanks to the Board of Health, collectively and individually, for the splendid manner in which they have handled the small-pox epidemic.

When they started in on their work they were badly handicapped by the opposition of many who should have promptly seconded their every effort, and at every step they have been impeded by the ill-concealed hostility of some of their brethren of the medical fraternity.

Their work was undertaken, carried on and completed without hope of fee or reward other than that of a consciousness of an earnest desire to do their duty and preserve the lives of their fellow-citizens.

It's indeed a marvel how rapidly and successfully they have accomplished the work of completely stamping out this loathsome disease.

Since they began it has been discovered that there had been cases in the city and county for four months before it was found out and the long start which it had was almost an insuperable barrier against a successful battle with it.

Again we say "well done thou good and faithful servants," you deserve and receive the gratitude of a whole city and county.

Vicious Storm.

On Friday night, or rather on Saturday morning, about 2 o'clock, one of the hardest storms of wind, thunder and lightning, which we ever witnessed, visited this city and vicinity. For more than an hour the wind raged and tugged at trees and every thing else that came in its way, and there was an almost continuous blaze of lightning without however, much reverberating thunder. Between 3 and 4 o'clock, the rain, which had been threatening all the while, came down in heavy sheets, and two very sharp and loud claps of thunder came almost together, which rolled along for some considerable time, shaking houses, rattling windows, etc.

One of the flashes of lightning struck what is known as the "Hansbrough house," on the West Side. The house was occupied by Mr. Bud Satterwhite and family. Luckily no one was seriously hurt, although all were shocked by the stroke. Comparatively little damage was done to the house.

In and around the city nearly all the fruit remaining on the trees was threshed off by the twisting winds. Vegetables in the garden were tossed about and cucumber and tomato vines twisted in every direction. Corn was blown down, but beyond these things, and a few trees broken, there was but little other damage.

Purchases Property.

Mr. W. W. Longmoor has purchased the brick cottage of Mr. Chas. F. Exum, corner of Second and Main streets, South Side. The price paid was $2,100 cash. This is a very desirable piece of property and capable of being made a very comfortable home.

Dreadful Accident.

Mr. John Walker, a lineman of a telephone company in Louisville, was electrocuted on Wednesday by coming in contact with a live electric light wire. When shocked he fell on the wire and was held there by a number of other wires until one of his little fingers was burned off and the flesh on his body burned black. He was the son of Mr. John Walker, a former Frankfort man, and a nephew of Col. Lewis Mangan, of this city.

Street Fair.

The merchants of the city had a meeting at the Court house on Tuesday evening to take into consideration the question of having a street fair in Frankfort in October. A committee was appointed to call on every merchant and learn the feeling existing for the fair. If the merchants unite together there is no doubt but the fair will be held, and that it will be beneficial to the city of Frankfort. There must be some liberality exhibited also, or else it will not be a go.

Take the Elk's Fair at Lexington, and see what an organized lodge can do to make us expensive a show as that was a success, and the Frankfort merchants will see what unity of action can do. It requires unity, energy, and push, with liberality added. Then it must be advertised in the county, and in the surrounding counties, and success will follow. There is every reason why Frankfort should wake up and stand us well as her neighbors. Now let us see what the merchants can do if they try, and then it can be seen what Frankfort can do united on any question.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by external remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or infected hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by this, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by "Hall's" Catarrh Cure. Send for our catalog, free.

Fine Fish Caught.

Mr. Hokill caught a buffalo perch, last week, just below the St. Clair street bridge, which weighed about twenty pounds. It was caught on a fly hook with No. 8 spoon cotton line. That was a lucky catch.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poison in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless run-down feeling. But there is no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, "The Electric Bitterns are just the thing for a man when he is all run-down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at J. W. Gayle's Drug Store. Every botile guaranteed.

Crepions! Crepons!

This class of goods has received more of our attention this season than any other. Our Black Crepons are, without a doubt, the prettiest for the money that have ever been shown in our city before. They have that beautiful finish and stylish effect which charms the eye and satisfies that inward desire to appear well dressed. All we ask is that you call and examine our goods, for we are satisfied that we can show you some wonderful values, ranging from 50c to $2.50 per yard.

Our Fall goods are beginning to arrive. In domestics WE LEAD IN low prices. Although woolen and cotton goods have advanced considerably in price, we will continue to offer goods as low as ever. NOW is your opportunity to save money by buying your staple goods before we are forced to put up the prices.

The new Fall Ribbons have come in and we have a larger assortment than ever. We carry in stock all of the different shades and widths, and you will find that our prices are very reasonable. We have just received several pieces of the popular

Mr. and Mrs. B. Lackamp, Elston, Mo., writes: "One Minute Cough Cure saved the life of our little boy when nearly dead with croup." J. E. Tyler.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to walk this morning I felt so weak I could hardly walk. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price—G. H. Wilson, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington, Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

DEATHS.

WEISENBURG.—At his home near Payne's Depot, on Saturday, Mr. A. H. Wiesenburgh died of consumption, aged about 42 years.

Mr. Wiesenburgh was a well known miller, and was an upright gentleman. He was a brother of Mr. L. B. Wiesenburgh and Mrs. V. A. Kalltenbrun, of this city. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his untimely end.

He had just returned from Colorado, whence he had gone in hopes of recuperating.

SMITH.—At her home in Louisville, on Wednesday, Mrs. Josephine Lemon Smith, widow of the late Col. D. Howard Smith, aged 73 years.

Mrs. Smith was well known and beloved in this city, where she lived so long with her beloved husband. She was a good woman, an earnest Christian, a faithful member of the Baptist Church for many long years.

The remains were taken to Lexington for interment by the side of her husband.

The sympathy of a host of friends is extended to the bereft family.

STIGERS.—At his home near Benson, on Thursday last, Mr. Samuel T. Stigers, aged 65 years, of heart disease.

Mr. Stigers had the misfortune to lose his wife about a year ago, and since then he seemed to gradually lose his hold on life. He was an earnest, Christian man, a member of Mt. Zion Christian Church. His sorrows had been many, as he had lost a wife and eight out of eleven children before he laid down life's burden. The neighborhood has lost a good citizen and his church a devoted member.

Miss Helm is a charming young woman, very domestic in her tastes. Mr. Lewis is the third son of the Rev. Dr. Cadwallader Lewis, and is a first cousin of the editor of the ROUNDABOUT. As a Christian and gentleman, in the highest sense of both terms, Mr. Lewis is at the front.

Firm Dissolved.

The firm of Ahler & Klaran has been dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Nick Klaran retiring. The business will be conducted by Mrs. M. Ahler, at the old stand.

Mr. Klaran has taken a position with Rogers Bros., at their bakery and confectionery, No. 38 St. Clair street.

The New Express Agent.

We noticed several days ago that Mr. J. W. Graham had resigned his position as agent of the Adams Express Co. in this city. Last week Mr. Graham left for Louisville. The company has appointed Mr. W. E. Johnson, cashier of the express office in Lexington, to fill the vacancy. Mr. Johnson has been in the employ of the company for some twenty years, and comes with the best of recommendations. He took charge of the office on Monday morning.

Our business men generally had asked the company to appoint Mr. C. Gran Graham, cashier of the local office, to the position, but the company adhered to its long-time rule to appoint those who had been with the company a long time. We are glad to know that Mr. Graham is to retain his place with the new agent.

We welcome the new manager to our city and hope he will find his new place and home to his liking.

Wednesday was the hottest day of the year, the thermometer registering 100° in the shade. At night the heat was terrible and at 12:30 p.m. the thermometer showed 91°. Many persons slept but little and were almost exhausted.

Won the Prize.

The fine Brown Leghorn pullets, owned by Mr. B. J. Nickles, of this city, won both the first and second prize at the Lexington Fair and Carnival last week.

But few knew that Mr. Nickles was a bird fancier and breeder, and therefore the surprise was greater when he quietly sent his beautiful birds to Lexington and beat out the oldest and most successful fanciers of this region. We congratulate him upon his well earned victory.

A diseased stomach surely undermines health. It dulls the brain, kills energy, destroys the nervous system, and is the precursor of many and fatal diseases. All dyspeptic troubles are quickly cured by Kudol Dyspepsia Cure. It has cured thousands of cases and is curing them every day. Its ingredients are such that can't help curing. J. E. Tyler.

Resignation—Appointment.

Dr. John L. Long, Superintendent of the Institute for Feeble-minded Children, tendered his resignation to Gov. Bradley on Monday, to take effect at once.

Gov. Bradley accepted the resignation and, that afternoon, appointed Dr. Jas. R. Ely, of this city, to fill the vacancy.

Dr. Long is an able and efficient officer and we regret that he has found it necessary to sever his connection with the Institute. He will resume the practice of his profession, probably at his old home in Louisville.

Dr. Ely is one of our most thoroughly equipped and well posted physicians. Is a man of fine executive ability and will make a splendid officer.

His service as one of the Commissioners of the Institute, has made him well aware of the duties which pertain to the position, and it will not be like appointing a new man to the place.

We congratulate the Governor upon his selection and the Institute upon its new Superintendent.

Parted With His Tawny Locks.

Col. Joe L. Bohannan, whose flowing tawny locks have made him a conspicuous figure upon our streets for some time, finally concluded to dislodge himself, and accordingly, on Monday last, had his hirsute appendage cut off. His best friends hardly knew him on the street.

Stamping Ground.

Mr. J. T. Reynolds, of Cynthiana, visited his family here this week.

Miss Mattie Kiltrey was the guest of Miss Lena Kiltrey, in Frankfort this week.

Mr. Wm. Cromwell, the attorney from Frankfort, was here on Tuesday.

Messrs. Trundle and Hayner have gone to the Hoggott place, near town, to live.

The crops were all greatly improved by the last abundant rains, especially corn and tobacco.

Mr. J. W. Bond sold 42 stock hogs to Mr. Geo. Pugh for $3.50 per hundred. They averaged about 170 pounds. He also sold to Mr. James Thompson 16 two-year-old heifers at $3.75 per hundred pounds.

Henry Chambers (colored) has gotten himself into trouble by borrowing a horse and coat without the return of the owner's consent. He took the horse to Frankfort and left it at a livery stable, and the coat he left for sale as low as ten cents. His chance to go to the pen are good.

We are glad to learn that Dr. E. H. Black is improving and it is thought that he will recover from his fall by which he broke his knee.

YACOB.

Water Pipe Burst.

The water pipe in front of the store of Mr. V. Berberich, on St. Clair street, burst and was causing damage to the brick street. The employees of the water-works set to work on the street to repair the break. It was hard work to get the brick up and still harder to get down to the broken pipe. It was finally repaired and the street replaced.

Kudol Dyspepsia Cure thoroughly digests food without aid from the stomach, and at the same time heals and restores the digestive organs. It is the only remedy that does both of these things and can be relied upon to permanently cure dyspepsia. J. E. Tyler.

New Departure.

Read the big ad. of Messrs. R. K. McClure & Son, in to-day's paper. They have branched out, as we announced they would. They are first class and reliable merchants and those wishing bargains could do well to visit them.

Sulphur Lick.

The farmers are wearing smiles since the rains.

Miss Lena Hancock began her school on Monday last.

Every body was delighted with the debate. It was a grand one with a large attendance. We were glad to see Mr. Gu. Hancock and Mr. Eddie Green with us. The debaters are Messrs. Howard Duval, William Rambo, Harrison Lee, David Rambo, Henry Gwin and others.

Miss Zulie Burchfield, of Forks of Elkhorn, is visiting relatives at this place.

Look out, Mr. Zan, or Miss Nan will go back on you. She is very notionate.

Mr. Eddie Wright has not been seen over here for some time. What is the racket now? Has Bertha gone back on him, or has Russ got his time?

Mr. William Rambo looked quite lonesome last Wednesday night at the debate, because Ida was not there.

Look out, John, Willie will get you out. He is not afraid of getting bit by the dogs.

I guess the farmers are glad the election is over, for the candidates called on them so often they detained them from their work.

Mr. Burton Paxton has a new buggy. Look out, boys, or he will beat you all.

Miss Ellen Thompson was the guest of Miss Nannie Rambo on Wednesday last.

Miss Bessie Smith was the guest of Misses Bertha and Bettie Daily last week.

We are glad to see Mr. Luther Pierce out again.

Miss Bettie Daily was accompanied home by Mr. Louis Sheets. Look out John, or somebody will be left.

Miss Cora Hancock has returned home from a visit to Swallowfield.

Claude, it is right nice for you and John to know how to fry chickens, but I think you might have divided with us.

BLIND DOG.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford Street Methodist Church, at Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me much pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has been highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering."—Yours truly, Mrs. G. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

Next Week.

We have received a communication from our valued friend, Col. Len J. Cox, of Galveston, Texas, concerning the pressure upon our columns by advertisers, we will not be able to publish until next week. It will well repay perusal.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases that any army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor, of Wind Ridge, Greene county, Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quiet relief. It is for sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing would do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering."—Yours truly, Mrs. G. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

Just What You Want.
